

Residential Transportation Amenities Request Form

Make your building more connected, convenient, and sustainable—at no cost to you!

Go Redmond is offering free transportation amenities and resources to eligible apartment communities in Redmond. These resources give your residents more options for everyday trips—whether they're heading to the grocery store, catching the bus or light rail, biking to work, or simply walking around the neighborhood.

Providing transportation options can also be a valuable resident amenity that helps your property stand out while supporting your sustainability goals.

How it works

Choose the resources that would be most useful for your residents. Go Redmond provides them at no cost to your property. In exchange, property management agrees to:

- Make the resources available to residents
- Distribute or check out items as appropriate
- Provide basic maintenance and care
- Promote the amenities to residents

Why offer these amenities?

A better resident experience: Transportation amenities give residents more convenient options for everyday trips—and can make your property more attractive to people who want the option of living with fewer cars.

A sustainability benefit: Helping residents walk, bike, take transit, or use shared mobility can reduce vehicle trips and support your property's environmental and sustainability goals.

An amenity without the amenity cost: Go Redmond pays for the resources. Your property provides the space and helps residents access and care for them.

A more connected community: Shared transportation resources can give residents opportunities to interact with their neighbors and make it easier to take advantage of nearby businesses, parks, transit, and other community destinations.

Bike repair stands, umbrella stations, and shopping trolleys are available to offer your residents
